ROMANTIC WORKSHOP #14

WRITE YOUR SEDUCTION

In this workshop we will guide you as a couple to create your own individual ideal seductions, in writing. You should print this document twice so that each of you has a copy to work with. When you are both finished with your creation you will exchange your ideal seduction papers and be guided on what to do with them. Few people can say that they have experienced their ideal date, seduction and sexual encounter because you are the only person who can know that, unless of course you told and then it was actually carried out. There is even a good chance that some of those details are unknown even to you. Hopefully this workshop will help clarify those details that may be as yet not pondered. Also, some of our readers may say that a totally scripted date does not appeal to them. To those readers we can suggest that they modify any portion of this workshop to their own liking, and to consider the possible satisfaction that can be derived from this exercise. We will begin with a list and then an outline of what you think would be your perfect date, what particular ways you can be best seduced, with words and actions, and how you would love to be treated with foreplay and lovemaking. Next we will offer help on expanding your outline with your preferred details and guide you in writing up your ultimate date and seduction. Finally, we will discuss what to do with your exchanged papers.

Each of you should have a legal pad and pencil for building your outline. Begin by simply listing your favorite dates you would like your partner to take you on. Try to be realistic about this list, a vacation in Europe or the Caribbean for example could require long term planning and saving to make it a reality. Ask yourself what your favorite activities are. Do you love big name concerts, or live plays, or a professional sports event as examples? List as many as you can; you will decide later which one or two are both preferable and doable. These lists are your pre-outline lists. Next you both should list as many things you can think of in regard to what your partner can do and say to successfully seduce you. Do you really love it when your partner makes use of your pet name, or plays with your ear when speaking to you? Do you feel real special when he opens doors for you, or when you caress his leg when driving down the road? Only list the things that can help him or her get you seduced. Your next list should cover what foreplay activity you prefer. Again, list as many as you can, later you will choose which ones to include in your final paper and which to exclude. Lastly, a list of your most preferred sexual activities will be listed.

Here is a short outline example with which to build your ultimate seduction. Utilize the lists that you compiled to decide how to fill in your outline. Use a new page in your legal notepad for this outline. Study your finished outline and build a new one if revisions or additions are needed until you are completely satisfied with it.

- I. Your favorite dates.
 - A. Date one
 - B. Date two —etc.
 - I. Date details and additions (dinner at a steakhouse for example)
 - a. Candles?
- II. Ways you can be seduced.
 - A. Compliments for example
 - B. Use of pet name for example. —etc.
- III. Foreplay preferences.
 - A. Lots of kissing for example.
 - B. Run fingers through my hair for example. —etc.
- IV. Favorite sexual activities.
 - A. Your choices. —etc.

Once your outline is complete you can begin to write your ultimate seduction. Here is an example of how to begin your paper.

MY ULTIMATE SEDUCTION DATE (female)

I would like you (partners' name) to take me to a water park so we can frolic in the water all afternoon together. But first I wish to go to (name restaurant) for an intimate lunch. You should ask the waitress to dim our area of lights and bring a candle. After we order you should present me with a little surprise gift. It doesn't have to be expensive but it should be thoughtful. Before we leave home you should tell me how beautiful I look and lay a fully embraced kiss on me. Make sure you give a love pat on my fanny to show that you still desire me. Etc., etc.

Continue with more ways and words to seduce, then paragraphs on foreplay and sexual interplay.

Now that you both have finished with your paper you can exchange them with each other. Next you must determine who gets their ultimate seduction first. A coin toss or any other method can be employed. Or you might have to be directed by when your favorite date is scheduled to take place. So now you can have it your way because each of you has agreed to follow your partners' agenda to the letter. There is a good chance with this workshop that both of you will learn a little more about your lovers' favorite things. But most of all, your partner will give you everything you want and how you like it!
